

THOMAS I. BARNETT, ESQ.
MANAGING DIRECTOR, E-DISCOVERY PRACTICE LEADER
STROZ FRIEDBERG

Thomas Barnett is the Managing Director and E-Discovery Practice Leader at Stroz Friedberg. In this capacity Mr. Barnett is responsible for the firm's strategic direction and thought leadership in e-discovery technology, services and processes. Previously he led the Global Consulting Practice at Stratify/Iron Mountain advising companies and law firms as consulting and testifying experts on all aspects of information, data and records management, regulatory compliance and discovery issues in large complex litigation and enforcement matters. Prior to that, he served as Special Counsel in the litigation department of Sullivan & Cromwell, where he was responsible for creating and leading the firm's E-discovery and Compliance Department. Mr. Barnett was a co-author and a member of the editorial board of the Sedona Conference Principles on Electronic Document Production. He serves on the the Board of Editors of the Electronic Discovery Reference Model (EDRM) Project, he is on the Advisory Board and is a faculty member of the Georgetown University Law Center Advanced E-Discovery Institute; the E-Discovery Expert Witness Directory Committee, the International Institute for Conflict Prevention & Resolution. Mr. Barnett has authored a large number of articles, whitepapers and treatises on electronic discovery and data management and is considered one of the leading experts in the field. He is a frequent speaker on electronic data management topics and has provided training sessions to judges, in-house and outside counsel and other legal professionals. Mr. Barnett has advised clients and served as an electronic discovery expert in some of the nation's largest civil, regulatory and criminal matters in the environmental, financial services, banking, energy, pharmaceutical, telecommunications, automobile manufacturing and tobacco industries. He is a 2006 recipient of the Burton Award for Legal Achievement. He is a graduate of the Cornell Law School where he served on the Board of Editors of the Cornell Law Review.